YourFloridaSource.com Privacy Policy

Last Updated: July 13, 2010

Your use of this Web site, or of any information or services presented in any area of this Web site, indicates your acknowledgment and acceptance of this Privacy Policy. YourFloridaSource.com reserves the right to update this Privacy Policy at any time and for any reason, and we will notify you of significant changes by posting an announcement on our Web site. The date of the last update to this Privacy Policy appears at the top of this document.

In general, you can visit this Web site without revealing any personally identifiable information. However, in order to register to become a member of this site, you must provide us with certain information, some of which is mandatory to continue use on the web site, such as your name and e-mail address. YourFloridaSource.com uses personally identifiable information to allow entrance into the "MLS listing" section of the site. YourFloridaSource.com does not share your personally identifiable information with unaffiliated third parties, unless prior approval is received. We may, however, disclose certain information if we believe in good faith that it is necessary to prevent a crime or interference with YourFloridaSource.com's rights or property. We may also disclose certain information if we believe in good faith that the law requires such disclosure. When you visit the Web site, we may automatically collect certain information from you and aggregate it with similar information collected from other visitors. Aggregate information may include, for example, the number of visitors to the Web site and pages accessed by visitors. The primary reason that we collect this information is to understand the use of our Web site. We may provide aggregate visitor data to third parties at our discretion.

The YourFloridaSource.com Web site may use a software tag called a "cookie" to identify you so that you will not need to re-enter your information (name, password) each time you visit the Web site. You are not obligated to accept cookies from YourFloridaSource.com and may enable or disable cookies within your own browser software before visiting the site. Cookies do not contain any personally identifiable information.

YourFloridaSource.com makes no representations or warranties as to the security of any information it collects and stores. Although YourFloridaSource.com will use reasonable efforts to safeguard the confidentiality of your information, transmissions made by means of the Internet cannot be made absolutely secure.

In the event that YourFloridaSource.com becomes owned or controlled by other individuals or entities, the information we have collected may be transferred to such individuals or entities.
